Tax Levy Fixed for 1912.

At the regular monthly meeting of the Bourbon Fiscal Court the tax rate for the year of 1912 was fixed. Judge Dundon presided at the meeting with Squires L. J. Fretwell, E. P. Thomason, R. H. Burris, J. J. Redmon, O. B. Lloyd, B. F. Stipp and G. K. Redmon present.

The report of Road Supervisor C. F. Redmon for the month of March was received and ordered made of record. The court ordered that an ad valorem tax on all property in Bourbon county for State purposes for the year of 1912 be levied as follows: To pay court house bonds, 6 cents on each $100 worth of property; turnpikes and bridges 25 cents; general purposes 19 cents. It was ordered that a poll tax of $1.50 be levied on each male in Bourbon county over the age of 21 years. A tax of ten cents is levied on each one hundred dollars worth of property outside the city of Paris and Little Rock graded school district for school purposes.

Accounts to the amount of $1,519.08 were approved and allowed by the court. The sum of $500 was appropriated for the use of the Road Supervisor for the month of April.

Squires R. H. Burris and O. B. Lloyd were appointed a committee to prepare and have published the financial statement of the county. County Treasurer S. E. Bedford made his report for the year ending April 1, 1912, which was accepted by the court. On a motion which carried the court adjourned to meet on Saturday morning at 9 o'clock in special session.

A companion to "What to Cook and How to Cook It," is now on sale. It is an attractive book of more than two hundred pages and contains chapters on Garnishing and Serving, and gives many useful suggestions on Table Decorations. The chapters on Cake, Icings, Cake Decorations and Confections are full and explicit, and gives directions for tube making, flower moulding and many things not found in other books. Price one dollar. Send your order to

Beginning tomorrow and lasting until Saturday April 6, we will sell Royal Baking Powder at the following cut prices. 50 cent size 40 cents, 25 cent size 20 cents, 10 cent size 7 1/2 cents. CURTIS HENRY.

Fire and tornado insurance. McCLURE & CLENDENIN.

Heavy Windstorm.

A heavy windstorm swept over Paris and Bourbon county Tuesday morning doing considerable damage. At the store of Mr. Harry Simon on Main street a display case in front of the building was damaged, the plate glass forming the front of the case being demolished.

The wind blew a brick from the top of the building near Eighth and Main streets and two colored men on the sidewalk were narrowly missed.

At the farm of Mr. George Wyatt, on the North Middletown pike near Paris, a large tobacco barn with a capacity of ten acres of tobacco was blown down and totally wrecked. The building was empty. Mr. Wyatt carried no cyclone insurance on the structure.

Fire, wind and lightning insurance. Thomas & Woodford

Meeting Will Close Today.

The prayer meetings which are being conducted by the C. W. B. M., at the Christian church during the week will close this afternoon, when Mrs. Fanniebell Sutherland will present an interesting literary and musical program. She will first give a talk on "Woman's Work in the World Along Various Lines of Activity," concluding with "Woman Among the Composers," and giving selections from them. Mrs. Sutherland has arranged the following attractive program:

Woman Among the Composers.
Mrs. F. Sutherland, Soprano.
Miss Lucille Price, Violin.
Mrs. Wade Whitely, Piano.
Mrs. H. H. A. Beach—"The Year's at the Spring," "Ecstasy."
Liza Lehman—"You And I."
Cecile Charminade—"Summer," "Scarf Dance."

Ellen Wright—"Fidelity," "Violets."

Guy D. Hardelet—"The Star and the Flower," "Mignon," "Without Thee."

Jessie Gaynor—"And I," "If I Were a Bee," "Cradle Song."

A cordial invitation is extended to every woman in the church to attend this meeting and recital, and the women of other churches will also receive a hearty welcome. The afternoon will conclude with an Easter offering, followed by a social half hour.

CRULLER PARTY GREAT FUN

If you are looking for an easy way to plan an evening of pure fun, then have a cruller party. Word the invitations thus: "Who likes crullers? If you do, then come help make them at the home of —, on the evening of —, and be prepared for the kitchen." This is written on the back of a cruller, made out of water-color paper and tinted brown.

The guests gathered quietly on the porch and when the door was opened, it revealed a group of kitchen maids and chefs, much to the delight of the hostess. The guests were ushered immediately into the kitchen and the fun began with the mixing of ingredients, particular work, and one suggested that he see that every one else did their share, as a large sign hung over the table, "No work, no eat."

When the frying was nearly completed each was given some dough and told to design the most artistic cruller possible and fix it absolutely without help. Such fun as this created, especially to those who knew how, but were not permitted to tell, that a particularly fine design was destined to come out an unsightly mass or a too frail affair would be removed in pieces. A late arrival was handed a plate of fearfully and wonderfully made objects and told to decide which was the best form and general appearance. The hostess had collected a number of suggestive advertisements, such as a flour grill, a dish of crullers, a pail of lard, a cookstove. These were mounted on gray cardboard and passepartouted in plaid, making unique and attractive souvenirs. While the coffee was being made ready those who had chosen dishwashing were kept busy at the table. The dishes were large reproductions of the invitations and the favors were tiny coffee pots such as come in doll sets. As the crullers and coffee were enjoyed each one told a joking story in some way connected with cooking.

Hot milk added to potatoes when mashing them will keep them from being soggy.

A pinch of salt thrown into the coffee pot will improve the flavor of the coffee.

Castor oil becomes tasteless if beaten and thoroughly mixed with the white of an egg.

The best floor covering for a children's playroom is coconut matting, which can easily be taken up and shaken twice a week.

When packing tie in bottle corks well and put the bottle in the middle of the trunk. If carried solidly in this way they will carry around the world.

After the bread is mixed and molded grease the mixing pan in which it is to stand while rising, and the ease with which it can be taken from the pan when making into loaves will be a pleasant feature of the work. Please don't fail to try this at the next bread mixing.

Helpful Hints.

Coconut matting may be cleaned with a large coarse cloth dipped in salt and water and then rubbed dry.

Knives which have been used for onions and smell of them can be cleaned by drawing them through a piece of carrot two or three times.

To remove hot water marks from japanned trays use sweet oil. Rub it in well till all marks disappear, then polish the tray with dry flour and a soft cloth.

When gilt frames or molding of rooms have specks of dirt from flies and other causes upon them they may be cleaned with white of egg applied with a camel's hair brush.

To clean dust stained alabaster ornaments, make a paste of whiting, soap and milk. The paste must be left to dry on and then washed away, the surface being then dried with a cloth and then with a flannel, when the ornaments will be found clean and unharmed.

Russian Vegetable Salad.

Cook some carrots and turnips in boiling salt water, adding a little butter when nearly done. Have one or two beets boiled until tender, then peeled. With a vegetable scoop cut the vegetables into round, olive-shaped and sized balls—about a cupful of each. Have also the same amount of asparagus points and string beans. Cut into small pieces two dozen stoned olives and a tablespoonful each of capers and minced pickle. Add to the vegetables, together with a teaspoonful each of chives, tarragon and chervil. Toss lightly together, heap in a salad bowl and cover with mayonnaise. Garnish with olives, pickles and hard-boiled eggs.

Molasses Cookies.

One cup molasses, one cup sugar, one cup melted shortening, preferably beef dripping or cod fat, one cup sweet milk, one teaspoon ginger, one large teaspoon soda, 2 teaspoons salt, flour to roll.

WASHING SILK BLOUSE

WHITE ONES MUST BE DEALT WITH BY THEMSELVES.

Soap Jelly, Freshly Prepared, the Best to Use—Some Minor Points, That Mean Much, Well to Keep in the Memory.

When the washing and ironing of silk is so easily done there is probably nothing so practical and useful as the silk waists. When preparing to wash silk waists separate them into colors, putting the white ones alone. Soap jelly is easily prepared, and is a valuable help. It should not be kept for longer than a week, as it soon loses its strength.

Have ready three bowls of lukewarm water, and into two of them place some of the soap jelly. In the first bath plunge the waist, having the right side uppermost. Squeeze the soapy water gently through the fabric, keeping it well under the water, and paying special attention to the neck, wristbands and armholes. When the waist is well washed in the first water squeeze the water out of it. Never wring the garment. Turn it on the wrong side and repeat the process of washing in the second bath of soapy water. Squeeze when well washed. Shake and rinse in clean, warm water to remove the soap. Then rinse in cold water, and if possible in running water. In order to make white silk a good color rinse in blue water. Silk must be ironed while quite damp, or it will have a rough, unfinished appearance. Use a moderately hot iron and place a piece of muslin between it and the right side of the silk. It has been found that a hot iron yellows silk and gives a crimped, rough appearance. Iron the silk to give it a good gloss. Lace trimmings on the waist should always be ironed on the wrong side, as lace is never supposed to have a gloss.

To Renovate a Black Coat.

To freshen and renovate the black coat which is perfectly good for further wear but lacking in freshness, brush it thoroughly hung on a line, or better, on a coat form against a wall in the outside air. After every speck of superficial dust has thus been removed, take a soft cloth of some black material, dip it in half a pint of gasoline, squeeze it a little and quickly go over the whole coat, rubbing lightly and paying special attention to any marks which may show on the cloth. Leave the coat in the outer air for some hours, that every trace of the gasoline odor may disappear; then, should any rusty marks show along the seam, or any glossy places be visible, sponge with a pint of strong coffee (clear) containing a teaspoonful of ammonia. When nearly dry press on the wrong side with a hot iron, or on the right side, using a cloth under the iron. The coat will be wonderfully freshened by this treatment.

Starch Which Does Not Stick.

Straining starch is so troublesome; make starch that requires no straining. This is the way: Put on sufficient clean water in a wide pan, and let it come to a hard boil. Meantime mix up your starch in cold water to the consistency of thick cream, taking care there are no lumps. When the water boils remove it from the fire and instantly stir into it the mixed starch. Keep stirring till it looks clear—the heat of the water will cook it without making a lump. A very little lard, a quarter teaspoonful to the gallon of cooked starch, makes things iron a little smoother. But with or without, starch made thus does not stick to the iron. It is worth while, though, to rub the iron lightly over a paraffined cloth, to prevent any possibility of smutting.

To Clean Nickel Silver Pieces.

To clean and remove the tarnish from your sterling silver-mounted toilet articles and the nickel-ware, make a light warm bath of a quart of (fairly hot) water and three tablespoonfuls of liquid ammonia. Take a piece of thick, rough flannel, dip it in the bath and use it to rub the articles, which will soon shine with their wonted lustre. As some parts may be deeply engraved or in relief it may be necessary to use a small brush, such as an old tooth-brush dipped in the solution to clean and brighten the grooves. A little patient effort will soon bring pleasing results, making the articles look like new. The final polish should be given with soft chamois, or lacking this, use an old glove of undressed kid.

Hot Chicken Toast.

Chop cold chicken meat fine, put it into a stewpan, add one cupful of milk, a lump of butter the size of an egg, salt and pepper to taste, and thicken it with a little flour, stirred in water. Take thin slices of bread, place one spoonful of creamed chicken between two slices of bread, put the sandwich on a plate and pour a large spoonful of the cream over it. Serve with crisp hearts of celery or spiced pickles.

The Ideal Kitchen.

Let your pocketbook save your strength and time by investing in every practical labor-saving device. Have a bread-mixer, a cake-mixer, a combination cream, egg, and mayonnaise beater, a meat-grinder, etc. Do not scorn the washing-machine, and test both the gas and electric irons. They save numberless steps and much heat.—Harper's Bazar.

Musical Sands.

Musical sands have been known for 1,000 years and it is believed that there is a reference to them in one of the tales of the "Arabian Nights." But nature produces much finer results. There is the Mountain of the Bell on the shores of the Red sea, which makes extraordinary sounds and booms when the winds set the countless millions of particles rubbing against each other and vibrating.

Policemen Dog's Only Enemies.

With unconscious humor, a woman summoned at Brentford, Middlesex, England, recently, on a charge of allowing a ferocious dog to be at large, pleaded that it was friendly with everyone but policemen, and it had never bitten anyone else.

Prepare for the Future.

If ever there was a time in the history of this country when getting-ready should be the order of the day, that time is "right now." Cleverness to see things ahead and diligence to get in line for what common sense tells us is surely coming are the foundation assets of 98 out of every 100 successful business men.—Robert Brown.

"THE HOME OF QUALITY."

Shire & Fithian.

Building New City in West.

Pensacola is the name of the new railroad station and townsite that will be located on the farm of Mr. J. Simms Wilson, near Vinita, Oklahoma, and which is destined to become one of the liveliest western towns in Oklahoma.

The Missouri, Oklahoma & Gulf Railroad Company has adopted a route through the center of the 1,100-acre ranch of Mr. Wilson and has located a station on his property. The M. O. & G. R. R. is partly built, and when completed will reach direct from Kansas City, Mo., to the Gulf.

Mr. Wilson's ranch is on Grand River, one of the most beautiful streams in the West. The land being in North Eastern Oklahoma, which is the richest part of the State, and only 200 miles south of Kansas City, makes its prospects for success as a commercial center most flattering.

The people around Vinita and other nearby towns to the Wilson townsite, are most enthusiastic about the new town's prospects, and they predict that the town will have a population of more than 1,200 in less than twelve months.

Mr. Wilson has a surveyor on the ground laying off the city and a number of applicants are insisting that he sell them business locations. Among the enterprises that are looking for a location is a large lumber concern, which wishes to get a site for a retail lumber yard. Applications from five financial concerns, wanting to start banks in the new city, have been received, besides numerous other business enterprises that are necessary in a hustling western town.

It is said that the official of the M. O. & G. R. railroad people are preparing to erect several nice business blocks in Pensacola, and it is understood that they have given Mr. Wilson every assistance in making his townsite, Pensacola, Okla., one of the best towns on the line.

The price of land around Pensacola has advanced by leaps and bounds since it became known that work had been started on the road, and Mr. Wilson's land, adjacent to the townsite is certain to be worth $100 per acre or more in the next twelve months, to say nothing of the immense amount of money his townsite should bring him.

The contract for the railroad to the Wilson farm has been let, and the contractors are under bond to enter his premises not later than August 1.

Wm. Kenefick, a wealthy Kansas City, Mo., capitalist, is the President of the Missouri, Oklahoma & Gulf Railroad Company, and his son-in-law, John W. Hoffman, is the general manager. Mr. Hoffman has recently sold his handsome home in Kansas City, and has moved to Oklahoma to reside, that he may be on the ground to push his railroad to completion.

DEATHS.

—Mrs. Nannie Gary Urnston, widow of the late John W. Urnston, died Wednesday morning about seven o'clock at the home of her son, Stewart, near Broadwell, Harrison county. She was ill but a short time from pneumonia. The funeral will take place from the residence this morning at 10 o'clock conducted by Rev. J. W. McClure. The burial will be at Jacksonville cemetery, this county.

Mrs. Urnston was a daughter of the late James Gray and was seventy-two years old, and has many relatives in Bourbon county.

Trustees Sell Massie Property.

The trustees of the Massie Memorial Hospital, Miss Lucy Simms and Mrs. E. F. Clay, have sold "Hidaway," the home of the late Mrs. Anna K. Massie, at the corner of Vine and Scott avenue, to Mr. W. C. Massie, at the reported price of $8,000.

By the terms of the will of the late Mrs. Massie, the property was bequeathed to the Bourbon County Hospital League, and it was the purpose of the league to convert the building into a hospital. Several days ago Mr. W. C. Massie, son of the late Mrs. Massie, submitted a proposition to the trustees of the hospital to buy the old homestead, that it might be kept in the Massie family.

The trustees met with Mayor J. T. Hinton and to whom the proposition was stated at the last meeting of the City Council the matter was brought up before the board with the result that the Finance Committee was given the power to act in the matter of purchasing the old G. G. White property in White Addition to be used as the hospital, the trustees of the hospital having previously secured an option on the property at $6,000.

The disposition of the Massie property is almost an assurance that the hospital will be located in the White property, and it will only be a matter of a few days until the trustees will exercise their option upon the property.

The White property is admirably arranged for a hospital. The building contains twenty-three rooms and halls and is admirably equipped for the purpose for which it will likely be purchased. It is said that very few improvements will be necessary to make it suitable for a hospital, while on the other hand if the Massie property had been retained it would be necessary to practically rebuild the house.

Let Us Have Another Flag.

In view of spring, opening of the Blue Grass League, the Conclave, Fourth of July and other good things to come, we don't think it would be a bad idea for the dilapidated and dirty old flag that floats over the U. S. Government building to be laid aside and be replaced with a new "Old Glory." Let's make application for a new one as the old one needs to be put out he pension list.

Successful Opening.

One of the most successful openings ever held in Paris was the beautiful display at Mrs. Corne Watson Baird's store on Wednesday and Thursday of this week. More hats were on display and more sales were made than on any other previous occasion. Mrs. Baird attributes the success to the fact that the hats were more beautiful and of a handsomer quality than those of former years. The new trimmer has simply captivated the stylish dressers of this city with her new creations in hats. Mrs. Baird desires to announce to the ladies that while today and tomorrow are not really termed the opening days that fully as many hats will be on display and she and her assistants will be more than glad to show them to the public.

Five Coal Cars Derailed

A through freight on the Louisville and Nashville was derailed Monday night near Escondido, a few miles south of Paris, five cars of coal leaving the track in a cut a short distance from the station. Traffic was blocked for several hours until the wreckage could be removed.

The Jacksonville, Fla., train due here was sent to Lexington and from that city to Winchester over the Chesapeake and Ohio. The northbound train was also detoured by way of Lexington. Another detour was made through Lexington Tuesday morning. By 9 o'clock Tuesday morning the wreckage was cleared and service resumed. None of the train crew were injured.

Clarence Willis, of this city, a brakeman on the Louisville and Nashville, was painfully injured early Tuesday morning while enroute to the scene of the wreck. He was a member of the train crew in charge of the wrecker. Willis was struck on the knee by a large lump of coal. His injuries were dressed by a company physician and he was removed to his home in Henry Addition.

Woodford Sells Horses.

Mr. Catebsy Woodford, proprietor of Raceland Stud near this city, has returned from Charleston, S. C., where he went to look over his string of runners at Palmetto Park. While there Mr. Woodford disposed of several of his thoroughbreds, being the principal seller at the private sales. He disposed of his two year old fillies, Jessie Porter and Garden of Allah to W. A. Massey; Red Widow and Tom Massie to W. E. Carson, and Cheer Up to Luke LeBlond.

Before returning to Paris Mr. Woodford decided that his Star Shoot colt, Sonada, would not be a starter in the Palmetto Derby tomorrow.

Sonada is entered in the Kentucky Derby and is regarded as being a most probable contender in the Kentucky classic. Sonada showed well in his two year old form when he was looked upon as a match for the great Worth. Worth and The Manager, are the favorites in the "winter books" with Sonada at third choice at odds of 6 to 1.

Found Dead in Bed.

Mr. Blanton Green, aged about forty years was found dead in bed at his boarding house on Seventh street Wednesday morning. Green had been in ill health for several months. Coroner Rudolph Davis conducted an investigation, which resulted in his finding that death was due to valvular heart disease. Green was a native of Bourbon county and a son of the late Robert Green. He is survived by three sisters, Mrs. Hamlet Sharp, of Mayzelle, Mrs. Henry Isgrigg and Miss Edna Green, of St. Louis, Mo. The burial took place yesterday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock with services at the grave in the Paris cemetery, conducted by the Eagle Lodge, of which he was a member.

To Our Patrons

We respectfully direct your attention to the extensive and choice stocks of Spring merchandise now assembled in our store. They comprise the very largest and most select gathering of new merchandise that has ever been collected under our roof at the opening of a season.

Every section of the store offers most complete selection. Our assortments mirror every authoritative new fashion, every new style-thought for Spring. Everything is fresh and brand new, as all goods in the store when our reorganization took place have been entirely disposed of.

Our buyers spent many weeks in the Eastern markets engaged in selecting from the products of the foremost manufacturers and importers the various lines of foods we now have the pleasure of offering you. They have exercised the most scrupulous discrimination in their selection, being ever on guard against the admission to our stocks of unauthentic styles or unreliable qualities.

Being constantly in touch with market conditions they were in a position to buy under the most favorable circumstances, which permits us to offer very attractive values. From every point of view we are in a position to serve you better than at any time in our history.

Our Dress-making Departments are taking orders now for before Easter delivery. Miss Brennan and Miss Brown having returned from the East with all the latest style ideas.

BRUCE HOLLADAY.

Forger Convicted.

In the Clark County Circuit Court Wednesday J. A. Crews, a young white man, was sentenced to an indeterminate sentence of from one to five years for obtaining money under false pretenses. Crews was charged with forging checks in Winchester, Paris and Louisville. He came to this city last fall and after purchasing a suit of clothes from H. M. Collins & Co., presented a check, receiving his goods and a small amount of cash in return. The check was pronounced a forgery and the police of several cities were notified to be on the lookout for the man. Several weeks ago he was taken into custody in St. Joseph, Mo., and returned to Winchester.

Ice Factory Begins Operations.

The Paris Ice Manufacturing Company, which began operations about two weeks ago is now running at full capacity. The first lift of ice was made last Saturday. During the past winter the plant has undergone many improvements and the machinery has been thoroughly overhauled and a new one hundred and fifty pound Stillwell heater and condenser installed. The new condenser is one of the latest appliances used in the manufacture of ice and was installed at a large outlay of money. The local ice factory has a capacity of fifty tons of ice per day.

J. W. Wright Paroled.

News was received yesterday afternoon to the effect that J. W. Wright serving a life sentence in the penitentiary for murder had been granted a parole.

Poisoning Dogs.

The indiscriminate distribution of poison in this city with the view of destroying the cur dogs in Paris was very much in evidence yesterday morning, when it was found that several very valuable dogs as well as mongrels fell victims to the deadly "pills."

"Jack," a very fine black bird dog, the property of Coroner Rudolph Davis, was among the number, and several other fine specimens were among those slaughtered.

The manner in which the poison is distributed jeopardizes the lives of the dogs upon which taxes have been paid and the miscreants who perpetrate such outrages should be hunted out and punished to the full extent of the law.

The fact further demonstrates the need of a dog pound in which all the worthless curs in the city could be destroyed without running the risk of killing valuable canines upon which taxes have been paid and which their owners are entitled to protection.

It is a very noticeable fact that whenever poison is scattered over the town the common curs are the ones that escape and the fine dogs suffer. The protection on fine dogs to which owners who pay the dog tax, should be far greater than at present and the city officials should take a hand in hunting down the party or parties whose ruthless hands are the cause of the death of so many valuable dogs each year.

Several dog owners and fanciers have united with Mr. Davis and a fund will be subscribed and a reward offered for the arrest and conviction of the parties guilty of distributing the poison.

The Children

At Naples the tramway workers had struck; there was a long row of empty cars in the Riviera Chiala, while on the Piazza di Triumfo a crowd of drivers and conductors had assembled. It was a noisy, boisterous crowd of Neapolitans, as lively and mobile as quicksilver.

Higher than their heads, behind the garden fence, the glistening jet of a fountain hung in the air like a sword. The tramway workers were surrounded by a larger crowd who wanted to go by tram car to the various parts of the town. All these, clerks, artisans, petty traders, seamstresses, denounced the strikers in a loud and angry tone.

The strikers looked gloomy, and pressed against each other, hardly responding to the angry shouts of the crowd. They climbed upon the railings and cast restless glances into the streets over the head of the people. The strikers resembled a pack of wolves surrounded by dogs. It was clear to everybody that these people, wearing the same uniform, were bound together by a firm resolve not to give in; and this infuriated the crowd still more. There were, however, philosophers in its midst who, while smoking away at their pipes, tried to pacify the more violent opponents of the strike.

"Eh, Signor! What is to be done if there is not enough money to buy macaroni for the children?"

Wrangling, jeers, reproaches and admonition were suddenly cut short; a new current swept the crowd as if reconciling it; the strikers looked gloomier still, and pressed closer together. Voices in the crowd called out:

"Soldiers!"

With a light, dancing step from the Santa Lucia Quay came little gray soldiers, stamping their feet regularly, and mechanically swinging their left arms. They seemed to be made of tin, and as frail as factory-made toys.

The crowd drew back from the cars, the soldiers, like gray beads, became scattered alongside the cars; the strikers remained on the platforms.

The man in the silk hat and some others who surrounded him swung their arms wildly and shouted:

"The last time... Ultima Volta! D'you hear?"

The officer twisted his mustache, his head drooping. A man waved his silk hat and ran up to him, saying something in a hoarse voice. The officer looked at him askance, standing erect, and gave the word of command in a loud tone.

The soldiers in twos and threes began to jump on the platforms of the cars. At the same time the drivers and conductors were pushed off.

This seemed to amuse the onlookers, who broke out into laughter and whistling, which, however, only lasted for a moment.

People drew back from the cars, their faces wearing a longer and older expression and their eyes wide open with astonishment. They all pressed forward toward the front of the car.

Within a yard or two of the wheels a gray-haired driver with the face of a soldier could be seen, his cap off, lying on the rails. He lay on his back, his long mustache shooting upward. An adroit youth, with the movements of a monkey, laid himself down by his side; a number of others followed their example.

The man in the silk hat cried out something, the officer looked at him and shrugged his shoulders. He must replace the tramway drivers by soldiers, but he has no orders to wrestle with the strikers.

Then the owner of the silk hat, surrounded by people willing to please, rushed toward the fusilliers. The latter set off, approached those lying on the rails and attempted to lift them.

A struggle ensued. All the dusty crowd of spectators made a lurch and, howling, rushed to the rails. The man in the Panama hat pulled it off his head, threw it up in the air, and was the first to lie down by the side of a striker; he patted him on the back, and shouted something approvingly right in his face.

After him some gay, noisy people who had just come upon the scene began to throw themselves down upon the rails. They lay down laughing, making faces at each other and shouting something at the officer who, waving his gloves above the head of the man in the silk hat, was telling him something, shaking his handsome head.

Others threw themselves down upon the rails. Women deposited their baskets and bundles, boys lay down laughing, doubling themselves up like dogs trying to keep warm, rolling over and getting dirty in the dust.

Five soldiers looked at the heaps of bodies under the wheels from the platform of the front car, then laughed convulsively as they clutched the railings and threw their heads up in the air. They were now quite unlike the tin, factory-made toys.

Half an hour later trams ran noisily along the streets of Naples; the victors stood on the platforms, grinning; some of them passed along the cars, calling out politely:

"Tickets!"

The passengers who handed them red and yellow slips winked their eyes, smiling and grumbling in a good-natured way.

STOCK, CROP AND FARM NOTES

—Corn is selling at $1.50 and $1.60 a bushel in many places in the mountains, owing to the great expense in shipping and hauling it in by wagons.

—The plan for dissolving the International Harvester Company contemplates its division into two companies. With this as a basis a friendly settlement with the Government is being negotiated.

—Montgomery Squirrel, a five-gaited saddle stallion, owned by Dr. T. D. Finck, of Louisville, in attempting to break out of his box stall, fell and broke his neck and died a few minutes later. The animal was very valuable.

—At a meeting of the directors of the Butler County Fair Association, held at Morgantown today, September 19, 20 and 21 was fixed as the date of the 1912 meet. A great many improvements will be made on the grounds, track and amphitheatre.

—Total damages of $26,000 were Tuesday awarded against the American Tobacco Company by a jury in the United States District Court in the anti-trust suit brought by the People's Tobacco Company, of New Orleans, for alleged conspiracy to destroy competition.

—The outlook for export cattle in Central Kentucky is more encouraging for high prices than for several years, and indications point to the fact that all handlers will make money. Notwithstanding that the feeders were purchased at stiff prices and feed has been very high, the market has steadily grown better and prices have advanced.

—The directors of the Farmers' Tobacco Company, of Mt. Sterling has purchased a site for the new leaf warehouse to be erected in that city. The site was purchased from H. Clay McKee and Charles H. Petry, and cost about $10,500. It will have entrances from three streets, and the property will also have an outlet to the Chesapeake and Ohio railroad.

No Pensions Until August.

No pensions will be paid to Confederate soldiers or widows of soldiers until August. Under the law granting pensions, to the old soldiers their claims for pensions must be passed on by the county court of the county in which the applicant lives and then must be approved by the pension board at Frankfort.

The board is composed of the Governor, the Auditor and the Secretary of State. The application blanks, which must be filled out by the applicants for pensions, will be sent out by Commissioner Stone this week. Claims will be paid after this year in February, May, August and November.

Giving A Demonstration

"Dear," said little Miss Dimple, as she snuggled up to her husband of six months, "I've just had a letter from Ruth and she's coming down to visit us."

"And—" suggested Dimple, helpfully, as she paused.

"And, dear, I want you to be nice to her! Won't you, please? I know she thinks you don't like her very well, because you never paid any attention to her when you came to see me. Don't you see, dear, she may think that she isn't welcome unless you're specially nice! You'll be obliging, won't you?" Mrs. Dimple ran her fingers through his hair, to make him pleasant and good tempered. She had found many similarities between her husband and her cat in the last six months, particularly in their response to certain treatments.

"Why, of course!" he replied. "What on earth made Ruth think I didn't like her? I think she's a peach—next best to the one I picked! Tell her to hustle down, and we'll show her a bully time!"

Little Mrs. Dimple immediately sat down and wrote to Ruth, and thus her beloved sister arrived in the course of time.

Dimple met her at the train and brought her home in a taxi. Mrs. Dimple's eyes opened wide at the unusual extravagance. She wondered, but she said nothing and was glad her husband was keeping his dislikes so well hid, for she was sure that he was really hiding his feelings. She was positive that he rather disliked Ruth.

The first morning after Ruth's arrival Dimple announced that he had made plans to get away from business in the afternoon to take them out.

"Why—" exclaimed Mrs. Dimple, and stopped. She could hardly believe her senses. Hadn't he been quite unable to get away from his work, even for an hour, when her best chum had been married? "Dear," she objected when she had caught her breath, "how can you? Besides, I've got an engagement at the dentist's and I can't possibly break it!"

"Well, you go to the dentist's," said Dimple, "and Ruth and I will see the town. I can't very well put it off, as I've made all arrangements." Then he left before Mrs. Dimple could make up her mind what to say.

"It's funny," she confided to Ruth. "He's never been able to leave his work for a day before, and he's just never afforded a taxi, but he's just the dearest man and he's doing these things because he promised me!" She felt better for the assurance.

Ruth and Dimple didn't get back to supper that night. Mrs. Dimple met them at the door, some hours later, bravely keeping back the tears while she assured them that the dinner, cold in the dining room, didn't make any difference and that she was glad they had dined at the downtown restaurant, since they had happened to be near it just at dinner time!

The next night her husband had tickets for the opera, and Mrs. Dimple dressed in her best and was happy. But when, on entering the theater, she found herself following the usher into a box, she felt her knees shake, and she looked hard at her husband, fearing his sanity. She really didn't have clothes for sitting in boxes, so she sat behind Ruth, who, all in white and wearing violets, was fitted for almost any scene of social splendor. Her husband, of course, sat with the guest, and talked every minute. Mrs. Dimple didn't know he could be so entertaining. She wondered why she had never been able to draw him out.

Entertainments for every night and for some afternoons were planned by Dimple. Mrs. Dimple, worn with the late hours as well as with worry, soon began to look forward eagerly to her sister's departure. But when the time arrived for her to leave Dimple begged so hard for her to stay that she agreed to remain another week at least.

Mrs. Dimple sought out a private telephone booth that day, and, putting in a long-distance call, succeeded in having a telegram sent to Ruth to return home immediately.

"Ruth's done!" she announced to her husband, when he reached home that night. Then when he breathed a deep sigh of relief she looked at him witheringly and told him in plain language what she thought of hypocrites. Dimple, however, is still trying to persuade her that he merely aimed to show her that he really did like Ruth. —Chicago Daily News.

First Marriage for 200 Years.

In the United Chapel of King's College, Cambridge, that famous structure begun by Henry VI. and finished by Henry VII., the first wedding to be solemnized in the edifice for two centuries took place not long ago, the contracting parties were Miss Katherine Olive Heycock, younger daughter of Mr. C. T. Heycock, Fellow of King's College and University Goldsmith's Reader in Metallurgy, and Mr. Alfred Douglas Pass, of King's college.

An Exception.

"An heiress is an exception to all ordinary business rules."
"In what way?"

Saved by His Wife.

She's a wise woman who knows just what to do when her husband's life is in danger, but Mrs. R. J. Flint, Braintree, Vt., is that kind. "She insisted on my using Dr. King's New Discovery," writes Mr. Flint, "for a dreadful cough when I was so weak my friends all thought I had only a short time to live; and it completely cured me." A quick cure for coughs and colds, it's the most safe and reliable remedy for many throat and lung troubles—grip, bronchitis, croup, whooping cough, quinsy, tonsillitis, hemorrhages. A trial will convince you. 50c & $1. Guaranteed by Oberdorfer.

The Better Knowledge.

A Log On the Track

of the fast express means serious trouble ahead if not removed, so does loss of appetite. It means lack of vitality, loss of strength and nerve weakness. If appetite fails, take Electric Bitters quickly to overcome the cause by toning up the stomach and curing the indigestion. Michael Hessheimer of Lincoln, Neb., had been sick over three years but six bottles of Electric Bitters put him right on his feet again. They have helped thousands. They give pure blood, strong nerves, good digestion. Only 50c at Oberdorfer's.

Pure Air on the Sea.

Tests have shown that the air in the crowded sleeping quarters of modern warships is purer than in barracks or average residences ashore.

Superiority.

Saves Leg of Boy.

"It seemed that my 14 year old boy would have to lose his leg on account of an ugly ulcer, caused by a bad bruise," wrote D. F. Howard, Aquone, N. C. "All remedies and all doctors treatment failed till we tried Bucklen's Arnica Salve and cured him with one box." Cures burns, boils, skin eruptions, piles. 25c at Oberdorfer's.

Bad Spells

"I suffered, during girlhood, from womanly weakness," writes Mrs. Mollie Navy, of Walnut, N. C. "At last, I was almost bed-ridden, and had to give up. We had three doctors. All the time, I was getting worse. I had bad spells, that lasted from 7 to 28 days. In one week, after I gave Cardui a trial, I could eat, sleep, and joke, as well as anybody. In 8 weeks, I was well. I had been an invalid for 5 weary years! Cardui relieved me, when everything else failed."

TAKE The CARDUI Woman's Tonic

If you are weak and ailing, think what it would mean, to you, to recover as quickly as Mrs. Navy did. For more than 50 years, this purely vegetable, tonic remedy, for women, has been used by thousands of weak and ailing sufferers. They found it of real value in relieving their aches and pains. Why suffer longer? A remedy that has relieved and helped so many, is ready, at the nearest drug store, for use, at once, by you. Try it, today.

The City Council in regular meeting Wednesday night transacted but little business. After allowing a few small accounts the light committee reported a flat rate for churches, halls, lodge rooms and the opera house, two cents a night for twenty-five wall lamps, three for forty and four for sixty wall lights. The final payment on the electric light plant was ordered made to the Morse-Fairbanks Company, of Cincinnati. The plant is giving satisfaction.

The beginning of the base ball season is near at hand for the Millersburg Military Institute team with the most brilliant prospects in view the team is engaged in hard practice. With several of the best men of the team last season forming the nucleus and with an abundance of new material the team will no doubt make a record during the coming season. Only a few games have been scheduled to date, but they expect to meet some of the best teams in the Blue Grass, including the Eastern Kentucky State Normal, High Schools of Lexington, Paris, Winchester and Richmond and other teams. The opening game will be played on the local grounds Monday, April 8 with the Cynthia Hustlers.
